

AN EYE ON INVERTERS

GYS, the French manufacturer of welding machines and battery support equipment, exhibited its new Pearl 150.2, a 150A inverter MIG at the Schweißen und Schneiden show at Essen. This two-in-one gas/gas-less machine, manufactured in France, welds steel, stainless steel and aluminium and will be available from November 2013.

Also on show was its award-winning TIG 250 AC DC. GYS's continued investment in research and development resulted in the launch of this fan-less, advanced liquid-cooling three-phase TIG, marking a significant transition into the high performance industrial segment for GYS.
