Professional battery booster packs for workshops are big business, and GYS has just launched its latest addition. The STARTpack 12.24 is capable of supporting both 12V and 24V batteries. Internal Hawker batteries provide both the starting power and also power the multi-stage battery charger. GYS says workshops can leave the unit connected to the mains without fear thanks to its design. Suitable for cars and CVs.

MIG welders are a sizeable investment, but GYS is hoping to make its own offering more attractive with the addition of two new heavy duty synergic units to the range. Priced at £860 and £993 respectively, the Monogys 200 and Monogys 250 benefit from advanced high duty cycles and arc smoothing. Both machines have the capability to weld 1mm wire and both are supplied with a euro torch.
